With starring roles on two of TV's hottest shows and boobs that have their own Twitter account, gorgeous and hilarious Mircea Monroe proves that all good things come in pairs. For that reason we're doubly honored to have the bombshell strip down for her third Maxim shoot. Listen in as she talks turn-ons, playing crazy, and, yes, getting into catfights with her body parts.

You play sweetheart Tansy Truitt on Hart of Dixie and sex bomb Morning Randolph on Episodes. Is it hard to play characters who are so different?
It's so fun playing these two. I have family in the South, so playing Tansy feels very natural. Morning is hilarious to play because, living in L.A., I meet ridiculous people who are just like her. So neither of them is really a stretch.

Tansy is always dealing with relationship drama. Do you go for a certain type in real life?
I have a boyfriend now who is super smart and really funny. I know it sounds so girly, but connecting or laughing a lot makes us feel really close, and then I want to bang him.

Well, not to cause drama, but do you have any celebrity crushes?
Oh, man, President Obama is crazy sexy. I'm not just talking looks, but intelligence and wit. I'm drawing a blank, but I'm sure there are plenty of other presidents I would want to do, even though they may not be hot.

Would that group include Abraham Lincoln?
The image of Lincoln fucking is kind of awesome.

Or terrifying. You have more than 20 TV credits. Is there one that was especially fun to play?
I'm friends with the guys who do Men at Work, and they called me up and said, "We think you're perfect for this part." I trust them, so I just took it. Then on set I found out the character just left a mental institution and is nuts. I was actually flattered, because the crazier, the better.

Do guys ever recognize you from Hart of Dixie?
Definitely. I'm always pleasantly surprised by how many dudes love the show. It's got a whole lot of sexy.

On to important things: the Twitter handle @MirceasBoobs.
I had the idea to give my boobs their own voice because it's a great way to acknowledge that they are part of my work, but that I have control over them. I love getting in Twitter fights with them and calling them names. I enjoy our intense relationship—and I'm proud of the following they've gotten!

Did you do them proud with your Maxim shoot?
Yes, this is what they live for. Anytime they can be on display and get attention is a great day for them.
